

Comparing books and films worksheet

In the columns below, list words and phrases that will be useful when talking about moving image texts.

List terms that could also be used to describe literature in the left column. Put any terms exclusive to moving image texts in the right column. An example of each is included.

| Both film and literature | Film only |
|--------------------------|-----------|
| Story                    | Close-up  |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |
|                          |           |